This workshop will provide experienced clinical educators with an introduction to management and leadership in clinical education. It will introduce theory about what management is, what leadership is and how they differ, plus an introduction to different ways of understanding leadership. The workshop will encourage participants to apply theory to their own leadership practices, helping them reflect critically on their own leadership and developing ideas for improving their leadership practices within the context of clinical education.

Intended learning outcomes

By the end of this workshop participants will be able to:

1. Differentiate between management and leadership
2. Reflect critically on their own management and leadership biographies
3. Appreciate individualistic, contextual and/or relational ways of understanding their own leadership
4. Develop ideas for improving their own leadership practices in clinical education

Pre-Reading
