Features of a satisfactory skill demonstration

I have reviewed the MH training on aseptic technique (<https://learning.monashhealth.org/login/start.php>)

Not sure about this procedural skill? If you would like more information please return to the Intern Assessment page for links to additional resources. (<http://monashdoctors.org/intern-assessment/>)

Pre procedure

- Displays an understanding of relevant procedural indications, contraindications, anatomy and technique
- Informed verbal consent has been obtained from patient after explanation of indication, benefits and risks including local anaesthetic usage.
- Correct selection of appropriate suture material for purpose, additional equipment and preparation of workspace.

Asepsis and sterile field management

- Hand hygiene performed and aseptic technique maintained throughout care episode, including surgical handwashing and application of sterile gloves. Any breaches are recognised by the trainee and rectified.

Skill demonstration and execution –minor prompting only from assessor

- Local anaesthetic correctly administered.
- Closure method selection appropriate for wound requirements and executed skilfully with disposal of sharps and waste into appropriate receptacles
- Demonstrates appropriate post-procedure care, including safe disposal of sharps, appropriate terminal dressing and completion of required documentation, discharge instructions to patient and follow up requirements
- Execution of skill is compliant with Monash Health policies and procedures throughout and optimises patient comfort and privacy. Direct supervision is no longer required.
