

JMS Education and Training Committee

2019 Highlights

Committee Membership

This year we were lucky to have 11 members in the JMS Education and Training Committee.

Jennifer Nguyen had the additional responsibility of being the co-chair of the Victorian JMO Forum. Joining Jennifer at the JMO Forum was Elaine Koh and Sean Ong.

Intern representatives were: Elaine Koh, Nathan Lay, Emily Lin and Manogna Metlapalli.

HMO representatives were: Krystle Chong, Sandy Chu, Genevieve Heath-Kalgutkar, Jennifer Nguyen, Sean Ong, Diane Quach and Mihiri Weerasuria.

We would also like to acknowledge the 2019 Innovation and Quality Medical Officers, Meilun Ly, Saras Mane, Conn McGrath and Ayoma Ratnappuli who rotated into the committee as part of their IQMO term.

PMCV JMO Forum Update

Five JMO Forums were held throughout the year and involved hospital representatives coming together from each health network. At each forum we discussed about key issues related to junior medical officers such as wellbeing, accreditation, education and workplace. The forum not only provided opportunity to network with fellow colleagues, but also allowed us to be involved in projects initiated by the JMO Forums such as the PGY2 education project, Research guide project, Specialty training guide and Cover shift support project. These projects were presented at the annual Australian & New Zealand Prevocational Medical Education Forum. Other opportunities included attendance to the Professional Development Workshop held by PMCV.

PGY2+ Orientation

A thorough review of the HMO Orientation program was conducted, with areas for improvement identified. We aim to incorporate many of those improvements for the HMO Orientation in February 2020.

Thank you to Krystle Chong, Genevieve Heath-Kalgutkar and Jennifer Nguyen for their work on this project.

ROVER and Unit Handbook

A large body of work that has been going on in the background is ensuring that the ROVERs and Unit Handbooks are up-to-date and available for all rotations.

Thank you to the IQMO, Abi Arulandarajah, Mihiri Weerasuria and Emily Lin for their work in this project.

You can find ROVERs here: <https://monashdoctors.org/rover-handover/>

And Unit Handbooks here: <https://monashdoctors.org/unit-handbooks-2019/>

Referral Cheat Sheet

Committee members highlighted the need for some tips or pointers in preparing a referral. A referral cheat sheet was sourced from Sunshine Coast University. A lanyard card with a link to the cheat-sheet was provided to all 2020 Interns during Orientation.

Presentation at Intern Teaching

Nathan Lay, along with a representative from the Coroners Court presented at Intern Teaching on Death Certification. This was a great opportunity for Peer-to-Peer learning.

Nathan also presented the same lecture at 2020 Intern Orientation.